

THE MIRACLE COLLECTORS

by Joan Luise Hill and Katie Mahon

Reviewed by Rhonda Byma

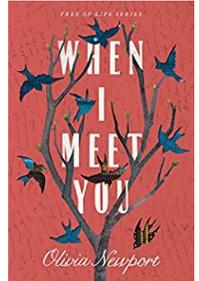

Do you believe God still does miracles? Have you experienced a miracle in your own life? As you read about the miracles of others in this book, it may open your eyes to the timing of events, situations and experiences in your own life that you may reconsider as miracles. Once you begin to look at life through a different lens, you may discover God is performing miracles often in your life! Don't be silent, let your light shine! Tell others about your everyday miracles to honor God, to encourage others to see the miracles God has done in their lives, and to unify us. Just as God uses others to be a part of miracles in your life, God can use YOU to be a miracle to others, if you are willing. Read how God uses our courage, forgiveness, gratitude, faith, hope and love to perform miracles. Non-Fiction

WHEN I MET YOU

by Olivia Newport

This is Book 3 in the Tree of Life Series. A trunk abandoned at Denver's Union Station more than a century ago leads Jillian and Nolan to untangle the mystery of its contents. While Nolan digs into the legalities of the findings, Jillian searches for the descendants of a stolen identity who might not be who they think they are on Colorado ranch land. Fiction

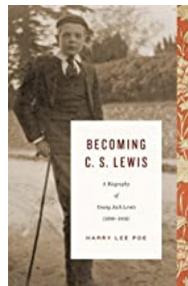

BECOMING C.S. LEWIS

by Harry Lee Poe

A biography of Young jack Lewis

The chapters unfold the habits and tastes he developed while at boarding school, living through his mother's death, in college, and in his service in the army during WWI, revealing where we see these themes appear in his works—bringing to life the man readers have come to know as C. S. Lewis. Non-Fiction

PELICAN POINT

by Irene Hannon

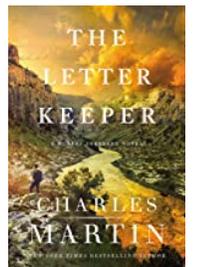

A crumbling lighthouse is not part of the inheritance Ben Garrison expects to claim when he comes to Hope Harbor. As he prepares to sell it, Editor Marci Weber has other ideas and she is determined to save the landmark. As sparks fly, Ben and Marci find out they have a history in common, as well as other things. Book 4 in the Hope Harbor Series. Adult Fiction

THE LETTER KEEPER

by Charles Martin

Another incredible story by Charles Martin! In this book, we pick up where The Water Keeper left off, with Summer, Angel, and Ellie starting a new life in Freetown. Meanwhile, Murphy continues making enemies as he rescues more children. This book also dives into more of his backstory, from his childhood to how he met Bones and found his calling. The fierce, sacrificial love Murphy shows in his fight against evil is a beautiful picture of the lengths Christ has gone to rescue us. Suspense, drama, action, and a powerfully emotional story are all wrapped up in this one book. Fiction

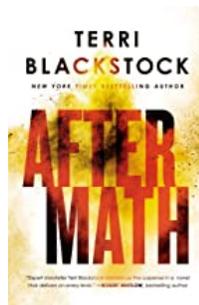

AFTERMATH

by Terri Blackstock

Reviewed by Rhonda Byma

Within a blink of an eye, innocent people's lives were turned upside down. Taylor went to a venue with her two best friends to hear their favorite band. She was the only one, of the three of them that made it out alive. She was so traumatized by the situation she decided to take matters into her own hands. Dustin Webb is horrified when the police pull him over with a warrant to search his car and found explosives in his trunk. He knows someone is trying to set him up. But who? After he is arrested, the first person he calls is his best friend from childhood, Jamie Powell, who he hasn't been in contact with for years. Jamie is a criminal attorney and believes Dustin and decided to represent him and fight for him even though it's a higher profile case than she has ever handled before. This book will keep you on the edge of your seat and turning the pages to discover the answers to many questions. Adult Fiction

WHERE'D MY GIGGLE GO?

by Max Lucado

When a young boy wakes up feeling grumpy, he searches far and wide for his smile and giggle, but his laughter is nowhere to be found. Soon he discovers the secret to getting his giggle back. Where do you think it went? Pastor Max Lucado offers a fun and natural way to help kids process their emotions and turn those grumpy moments into laugh-out-loud happiness. Children's Picture Book

